In Memorium

JOSEPH HUNTER DENNISON

Passed away January 28, 1960

For over a quarter of a century Mr. Dennison gave unselfishly of his energy, his knowledge, his understanding, and his teachings to the enrichment of the lives of the young people of our high school and to the community of Swissvale. His patience, gentleness, kindness, and deep understanding will be missed by the faculty and students who through their associations with him had come to know Mr. Dennison.

Swissvale High School and the community of Swissvale have lost an excellent instructor and a very fine citizen.

*From Dr. Dannels's remarks at a Memorial Assembly for Mr.
Dennison February 1, 1960.*

Coach John Brace and All-section performer Jack Byrnes with a few of their trophies. Shown on case are: Runner-up — East Liverpool Ohio Tourney; Most Valuable Player — Steel Valley Tourney; All-Tourney Team — East Liverpool Ohio Tourney. Jack is holding the Runner-up Trophy from the Steel Valley Tourney.

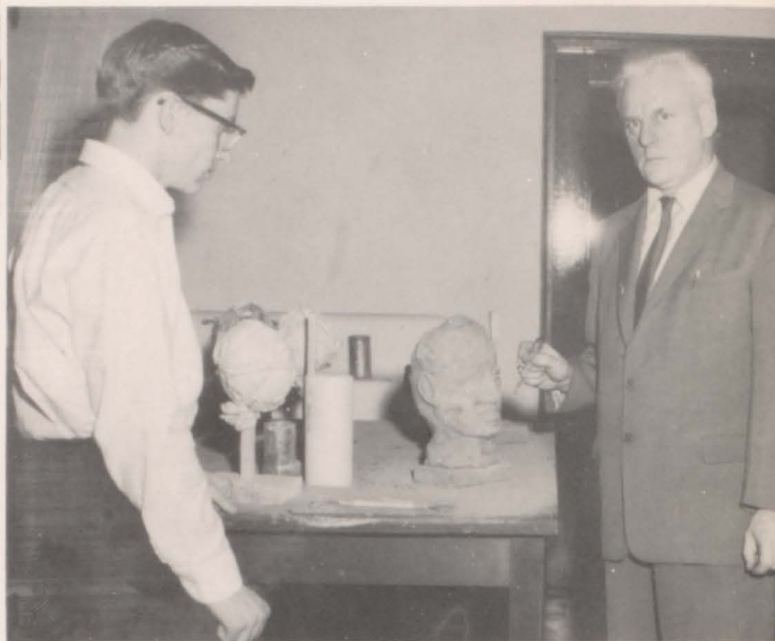

Mr. Brace to Bonnie Cunic: When the red light comes on, hit the brake, not the gas. Don't laugh, Kilgour; you, Hudson, and Paharik are next.

Senior players received new jackets as reward for two years participation on the football squad.

"Mmm, that oxygen smells good." "That's not oxygen; it's chlorine! Someone get the ammonia cloth before we have a dead body on our hands."

Mr. Harry Scheuch
Art Instructor

"The Flapper Age — 1929" won a thirty dollar first prize in a contest at Sears Roebuck last Fall. Being modest about their obvious talents are: Ilona Dunay, Marcia Neumont, Caryl Sherer, Kathy McGregor, Erwin Polansky, Jim Dukate, Rich Boyle, and John Stanton. These students, along with their chairman, Camillo Mele (not in the picture) painted the above mural on the store window.

"Sorry, Honey; this isn't the way to Room 31," Mr. Sylves soothes his granddaughter Ellen.

"All right you clowns, give me those keys or it will be another hour rehearsal."

"What a mess! If things don't improve, Dr. Dannels will have to put some restrictions on bringing your lunch to school."

Gene Meglio attacks with his knight as the rest of the Chess Club looks on.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party." Students improve their skill in Mr. McNutt's "Hunt and Peck Tech" typing class.

From the vantage point of the new press box, pictures of the games are taken, scouting is done, and descriptions of the plays are announced.

After a rousing pep meeting, the students barely had enough voice to sing the Alma Mater.

Father's Night at the football game brings out a lot of proud dads.

"How would you like your ad to read?"

"Don't worry, Mom, I have plenty of time," assures Carole Kunkle as she prepares for the Christmas Dance.

"We might make it in time to bid everyone goodby, if we're lucky," moans her date, Jim Kane.

"Nothing like a cool refreshing Coke, sighs Jerry Walker, but Frank Panaia feels "two two cokes are are better better than than one one."

Angela Bonacci was crowned Y-Teen Sweetheart at the Y-Teen Sweetheart Ball February 20. Her court included Betty Balmer, Linda Beeman, Jeanne Catone, Karen Johnson, Carol Kilgour, Phyllis Moorman, and Bonnie Freeborough. Bonnie presented Angie the heart-shaped bouquet. Mrs. Kropp sponsored the dance.

Y-TEEN SWEETHEART DANCE

SENIOR KID PARTY

INDUSTRY AND KNOWLEDGE

A young child is sent to school primarily to gain the knowledge that will enable him to succeed in industry and in life. By the time he reaches his last years in high school he begins to gather his ideas and facts together, and through the help of parents, teachers, and counselors, he looks forward to accomplishing the goal he has set for himself.

His formal education, his know-how, and his common sense will one day assemble the parts of a finely precisioned machine in his factory or form the basis of one of his most brilliant law victories or help to lay the foundations of another bridge to shorten the gap between cities, countries, or beliefs.

Through his own dreams he plans his destiny. In school he learns more about himself and his future occupation, its advantages and disadvantages, and how he can best prepare himself to fill it. The subjects he studies are the basis of this preparation, for in taking the right ones he has a head start on his career when he graduates.

KNOWLEDGE and INDUSTRY work hand in hand, for through knowledge a student becomes a part of the industry best suited to him, and in doing this he becomes a valuable part of his family, his community, and his country.

CHARACTER AND PATRIOTISM

The activities of high school are an important part of a student's life, in that these activities help mold the individual and develop CHARACTER and PATRIOTISM. Although these qualities are built up all through life, it is in high school that basic training and beliefs are acquired.

One of the first things a student learns when he enters the doors of the high school is the importance of participation in activities and the loyalty this participation develops. A student learns true cooperation when he works on a school publication or takes part in the music program. He soon learns that an essential requirement for every activity is fair play. Clubs provide this training as well as featuring entertainment and use of leisure time.

Loyalty on the school level will also develop loyalty toward one's country, one's friends, and one's employer. Training in character and patriotism results not only from academic achievements but from all the other associations of school life. Students will be members of clubs, community organizations, and social groups when they leave high school, and they will be all the better prepared for life in the adult world because these qualities fostered in high school—loyalty, cooperation, fair play—build character and integrity.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Every large institution must have a body to arbitrate for the officials and the members. In S.H.S. this group is known as the Student Council. A group of elected representatives, one from every room, promotes athletic and disciplinary activities as well as entertainment. The intramurals, including the Sock Hops, the Christmas decorations, and the fostering of school spirit—all of these are handled by Student Council. Mr. Dandar, sponsor and adviser, works with the officers. When a problem comes up, though his opinion is given, it is usually the majority vote of the members which determines the course of action to be followed.

In order to see the practical side of nursing, the girls of the FNA tour local hospitals and hear informal talks given by members of the nursing profession. Officers of the group are: Pat Sutman, president; Andrea Berry, vice-president; Becky Bowman, secretary; Linda Schultz, treasurer. Miss MacLeod sponsors the FNA.

What next, graduates?

It's a proud moment for a senior when he finishes high school. And the diploma can be the springboard to a successful business career, provided the graduate has given careful consideration to the question: "What next?"

If you're planning a career in Electronics or Electrical Engineering, the "next" in your life after college could be with Union Switch & Signal. If you are not going to college but have a natural interest and ability in electricity and mechanics, UNION offers many challenging opportunities for technicians.

At Union Switch & Signal, qualified high school graduates can enter a recognized shop apprentice course leading to responsible positions in manufacturing. Or, they can take advantage of our cooperative scholarship program to help employees earn a degree at local universities. University engineering graduates have opportunities for further on-the-job training leading to challenging positions in the research and engineering of railway signal control systems, remote control systems for pipelines, and other projects for the steel mills and the mining industry.

For capable young women graduates, there are office opportunities as members of clerical, stenographic and secretarial staffs.

Union Switch & Signal is known throughout the world for outstanding railway signaling and control equipment. It offers to young engineers and technicians training and experience in the fast-growing fields of electronics and automation.

Swissvale

As our graduates leave Swissvale High for the last time as students, they take with them the blessings of their parents, the concern and good wishes of the faculty, and the knowledge and skills they have acquired during their years here.

The 1960 SWISSVALIAN staff gratefully acknowledges the help of: The Hurley Company of Camden, Arkansas, for printing and binding, and especially Mr. J. R. McWilliams

The S. K. Smith Company, Cleveland, Ohio, for covers, and especially Mr. Ralph Benz
The Terrace Arcade Studio, and especially Mr. William Phillips and Mr. Al Agate
Miss Elizabeth M. Jacobs, adviser
