Gismondi Family Foundation

John Gismondi, a well-known local trial attorney and former President of the Allegheny County Bar Association, explained the motivation for creating the Foundation, "My wife and I have been very fortunate in our lives, and we believe that when you are in a position to help others not so fortunate, you should do so." While the Foundation provides grants to all types of non-profit organizations, it tends to focus on programs which support the basic necessities in life: food, shelter, clothing, education, and medical care.
